HERE TO REPRESENT PERU

Frederico A. Pezet Is the First Ambassador From That Country in the United States.

Peru has been added to the list of Latin-American states maintaining embassles in Washington, states the New York Tribune. The first ambassador, Frederico A. Pezet, has arrived in this country and the state department seems inclined to annul for his benefit its famous Costa Rican "house rule," to the effect that no diplomatic recognition can be given to a Latin-American government coming into power through revolution. President Legula assumed control in Lima by force last year and exiled his predecessor, doing so on the ground that he has been elected president by the people for a term to begin a few months later and that the administration in office was planning to count him out. Mr. Pezet will be welcomed as the representative of Peru, a state which has always had the most friendly relations with the United States. He served here formerly both as first secretary of legation and as minister. He knows this country thoroughly, speaks English as well as he does Spanish and enjoys in an exceptional degree the esteem of government and other circles in Washington, in which he has long been at home.

SEEK FOR TRADE IN ARCTIC

Boston Capitalists Form Organization Something Like the Famous Hudson's Bay Company.

Word has Just come out of the North of a rival to the Hudson's Bay company that has sprung up. It is an organization backed by Boston interests and its aim is to get a share of the trade that the "Ancient and Honorable Association of Adventurers" has monopolized for over a century. Last spring Capt. Louis Lane of Nome, Alaska, was sent into the Arctic to establish a string of 28 trading posts for the Boston body.

The expedition went into the North via Calgary, Alberta, with eight carloads of goods, of an estimated value of $240,000. In addition to this they sent in a river power boat for operation on the Mackenzie river. The vessel was sent in sections and assembled on the big river. The party worked slowly down the river, canvassing and exploring among the tribes and only reached Fort Macpherson when winter came. They will stay there until spring opens the river and allows them to proceed further. The company intends locating its posts by the pioneering party, and will then keep them supplied by means of ships from Nome during the short summer.

Schooldays. In a physiology recitation during a discussion of the organs of breath ing, a sixth grade girl, when asked what the diaphragm was, replied: "It is something that if we didn't have we'd go all out of shape when we breathed." The teacher in assigning a lesson in the fifth grade geography ended by saying: "The question need not be answered by written answer; the answers must be in your head." There was a general laugh when a boy raised his hand and asked, "Must I hand it

Girl Mines Coal. Pittsburgh lays claim to the only girl coal miner in America and probably in the world. Miss Ricka Ott is her name and she is just twenty-one years old and very attractive. But she is a coal miner, and is proud of it. In addition, she is a coal operator. truck driver, farmer and general "fack of all trades." Back in the hills of Mount Oliver, a suburb, she was discovered merrrily wheeling her black diamonds from the little pit in the hillside.

Filipinos Take to Athletics. Since our soldiers in the early days of American occupation held their first athletic contest in the Philippines the natives of the Islands have taken an active interest in many forms of athletics and sports popular in the western world. It was not, however, until rivalry between towns and provinces was created that a deep general interest in every form of sport was developed, the majority of the people considering this indulgence a useless waste of energy.

HISTORIANS HAVE NOT SAID

Of Course There Is Just a Possibility That Mrs. Patrick Henry Was Unsympathetic.

They were having one of the usual family quarrels over his having been at a meeting at the Commercial club while she was "at Home all alone and so lonesome."

"You don't wish me to have any city or country spirit, either," he finally told her hotly. "I wonder where our country would be today if all the men who have lived in it had stayed at home and petted their wives all their off hours as you are wanting me to do for you?" "Well, the women always suffer," she retorted. "Public men never have time to appreciate their wives and sympathize with-Then he interrupted her. "Oh, that ry for sympathy" (he was angry now). "I suppose that it's a nationold cry. I imagine that while Patrick Henry was at the Virginia legislature unking his famed speech, 'Give me liberty or give me death,' that Mrs. Patrick H, was at home wailing, 'Give me sympathy or give me death."-

Shakespeare Down to Date.

Justice Wayne, dramatic actress, nds an explanation of the question as to why Shakespearian plays seldom win financial reward in what she terms Shakespeare's inability to give his productions catchy titles. She gests a repertoire of the bard's plays rechristened to meet popular demands or stimulating titles. She suggests 'How Could You, Juliet?" as more appropriate than plain "Romeo and Juliet." She also would substitute "Call of the Flesh" for "The Merchant of Venice;" "Strangled in Bed" for "Othello; "The Nutty Princess" for "Hamlet;" "Henry, Whom Do You Love?" for "Henry V;" "Big Dick" for Richard the Third;" "The Knife" for 'Julius Caesar" and "Moonlight and Honey suckle" for "Midsummer Night's

The Cheerful Exterminator. On moving into our honeymoon partment we discovered that it was adly in need of the services of an exterminator. With a bride's ignorance of apartment house life and the clubby ways of the cockroach, I regarded this as a personal disgrace, and took great care to keep it a profound secret from our friends.

One day, while exhibiting my shiny new kitchen equipment to a girl friend, I answered the back-door buzzer, and there was the exterminator, inquiring in a loud, cheerful tone, 'Well, how are the cockroaches?" The situation reduced my mind to such a pulp that I babbled, "They're well, thank you!"-Exchange.

The Bite That Failed. As a rule the relations between Russians and Japanese soldiers in Siberia have been friendly enough. But at a town on the Transiberian railway, which had just been freed from the foul tyranny of bolshevist rule, a Japnnese soldier haled a big, staring moujik into the presence of his commanding officer. "What has he been doing?" asked the colonel. "I gave him a cigarette," said the soldler, "and then he tried to bite me!" Kissing, even between members of the opposite sexes, is not a Japanese cus-

Enormous Demand for Furs. Siberian furs are almost entirely shipped in the raw state. Very few furs are sent abroad, the exceptions being Tibetan lamb, mufflin (plucked goat skin), and a few other varieties. The great demand for furs in all countries and the keen competition in the trade has sent up the prices of raw furs to figures unheard of a few years ago. Sables have enormously increased in value, due to the short supply and the closure of the Russian sable mar
